Updates on Requirements for Exporters of Crude Palm Oil (CPO) and Cooking Oil Raw Materials in Indonesia

The Minister of Trade, Muhammad Lutfi issued the Ministry of Trade Regulation No. 30 Year 2022 concerning Export Provisions for Crude Palm Oil (CPO), Refined, Bleached and Deodorized Palm Oil, Refined, Bleached, and Deodorized Palm Oil and Used Cooking Oil. This policy was socialized on a hybrid basis to CPO producers and exporters on May 23rd, 2022.

This policy emphasizes that exporters must have an Export Approval (Persetujuan Export/PE) document as a condition for exporting CPO and its derivative products in accordance with those stipulated in the regulation. The PE validity period is six months. Sanctions for exporters who do not comply with the provisions include administrative sanctions in the form of electronic warnings in the Indonesia National Single Window (INSW) system, suspension and revocation of PE.

There are three requirements that must be met to obtain PE, namely:

1. The exporter must have proof of the implementation of the distribution of domestic needs (Domestic Market Obligation/DMO) with domestic sales prices (domestic price obligation/DPO) to producers of bulk cooking oil.
2. Proof of the implementation of the distribution of bulk cooking oil DMO with DPO to retail logistics service business actors and buying CPO without using DPO.
3. Proof of the implementation of the distribution of DMO from other producers, which was preceded by cooperation between exporters and producers implementing the distribution of DMO, submitted through the INSW in the form of electronic data elements of business registration numbers and company names.
